Movement in Time is an original work inspired by the most basic elements of dance; movement and music. Much like a "moment in time" in film, when a character appears frozen while the world around them is speeding by, I am captivated as a viewer. This cinematic image demonstrates that despite what is currently happening in your life that may appear to stop time, life goes on. The pace of the world never stops.

Another theme that emerges is the concept of isolation versus community. Our individual daily routines tend to make us feel alone in a repetitive and mundane cycle. Finding moments to pause, take a breath, and lean on a friend can help you find peace and a sense of belonging in a busy, fast-paced world.
